

WHO WILL TELL YOUR STORY

What I find so amazing is that if you simply locate the story inside something—be it a ministry, a college, a company, or whatever—then instantly it's more interesting. God created us to think relationally, so we intuitively apprehend things more quickly through stories. Look at the Bible: it's filled with stories that entertain and instruct. If you apply this principle to digital video and the internet, you can reach thousands (if not millions) of people in an incredibly effective way. At Compass Cinema, we love helping people just like you take the story of your ministry, school or company and creatively deliver it to your unique audience. Go to compasscinema.com to watch some of the stories we've already told, or drop us a note at info@compasscinema.com. We'd love to tell your story.

- Thomas Purifoy, Jr., Producer, Compass Cinema

Compass Cinema produced the Modern Parables and Seek Social Justice series.
Learn more about our philosophy, work, and films at compasscinema.com.